For Immediate Release

HALIBURTON (October 20, 2017) – The Haliburton Highlands Health Services (HHHS) is pleased to confirm that the telephone disruption to the Haliburton site has been resolved, and all HHHS phone lines are currently functional and operating, ending the Code Grey.

HHHS wishes to thank the staff, our community partners, the Local Health Integration Network (LHIN) and the Ministry of Health and Long-Term Care (MOHLTC) for their collaboration and support in responding to the situation, which helped ensure patient services were not disrupted.

We sincerely apologize for any inconvenience which may have been caused during the disruption, and again appreciate the public's understanding and patience while the issue was being fixed.
